LATVIAN RADIO CHOIR AND CELLO MEDITATION

08.04., 19:00

The 20th century Norwegian Knut Nystedt (1915-2014) affirms in his creation a deep interest in the magnificence of ancient music, and creatively connects its treasures with modern sound art opportunities. As a Christian, this impressive choral music writer also affirms his faith. This concert program, too, includes pieces with a religious substance, including one of Nystedt's most beautiful scores - "Stabat Mater", where the cello's melodic line coincides with the many voices of the choir, whose sound brings out associations with bell tolling that echoes into the church dome. Besides the Norwegian artist's opuses, which will be performed by the young cello talent Kristaps Bergs and Latvian Radio Choir, conducted by Kaspars Adamsons, the concert will also include opuses from several Latvian composers – Ēriks Ešenvalds and Ārijs Šķepasts' emotionally tense compositions, Andris Dzenītis' diptych for choir, as well as a new piece for choir and cello, particularly written for this concert by one of the brightest composers of the new generation - Jēkabs Jančevskis.

08.05., 12:00-15:00

In the month of May, the ritual of singing at the cross is a new tradition at the Ethnographic Open-Air Museum but an age-old tradition in Latgale and Augšzeme. According to Catholic traditions of Latgale, a cross is the place of reflection where one looks up, removing any hat in reverence to God. People called divine service in May as "dzīdušana pi krusta" (singing at the cross) and held it at their own initiative. The Holy Mass will be held in the chapel of Eleonorvilla Manor, and Virgin Mary's songs will be sung at the crucifix of Gutī village.

Dances by Raymonda and her friends appear as an accolade to female beauty and the multicoloured gamut of her feelings, while the entrance of sheikh Abdu-Rakhman and his suite brings Oriental inebriation and passion to the ballet, briefly stirring up the admirable harmony of Raymonda's world. LNO production transports the audience into the wondrous atmosphere of the Middle Ages.
